

CRUSH DIVORCE IS DOANE'S CALL TO HIS CHURCH

Episcopal Bishop Says
There Should Be No
Halfway Measures.

ALBANY, Nov. 20.—The thirty-eighth annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Albany convened in All Saints' Cathedral in this city today. Th. a feature of principal public interest was the address of Right Rev. William Cresswell Doane, who from the foundation of the diocese has been its bishop.

His widely known interest in the subject of marriage and divorce was again displayed in his earnest references to that subject, in the course of which, after alluding with approval to the meeting at Philadelphia of the congress on uniform divorce laws, at which he was present, he said in part:

"Whatever result is to be attained in dealing with this most important question depends upon three things. In the first place, what legislative action can be secured to correct the methods of procedure. In the next place, what pressure can be brought to bear by people who really control and govern what is called society. And in the next place, the positive and definite outspokenness of the churches.

"And I am increasingly hopeful and anxious that this church shall take the lead in a strong and definite position as to our relation, at this time, to the question of the remarriage of any divorced persons.

"Until six years ago our canons quietly treated as possible the remarriage of the so-called innocent party to a divorce, with much confusion in the details of its language. Three years ago the church made it difficult. But this is really not dealing with the sleeping dog lie, but the trouble is that this dog is not asleep. I cannot believe that the church would be content with a canon that really expresses nobody's honest convictions.

"Let us wash our hands of the whole business. Let the State which separates unite. And without elaboration of detail or declaration of discipline, let us simply forbid the clergy to give the churches benediction to any such marriage.

"In season and out of season the Christian pulpit ought to call this thing by its right name, until the people who hold some moral standards shall recognize the wrong and refuse to recognize the wrongdoers haunting their sin before the world."

HANGED HIMSELF IN STORE BASEMENT

Adolph Hernley Had Been Dead 24 Hours When Body Was Found.

Patrick Lynch, a meter inspector of the Brooklyn Gas Company, was today dropping around in the dark cellar beneath Hernley Brothers' upholstery, at No. 350 Duane avenue, looking for a body hanging from the ceiling. Lynch rushed upstairs and gave the alarm to George Hernley, who went into the basement and recognized the body as that of his brother Adolph.

An ambulance doctor from the Brooklyn Hospital examined the body after I had been cut down and said that life had been extinct for at least twenty-four hours.

George Hernley said that his brother had been ill for some time and had been much depressed by it. Adolph, he said, was in the habit of coming home from work for a drink of beer at a time. The last time the brother-in-law saw him alive was when he came home from work on Sunday. He disappeared from his home, No. 108 Fulton street, one dead man was forty-eight years old.

BUILT $20,000,000 FOR PORTCHESTER

Officers of Electric Road Ask Permission to Issue Mortgage to That Amount.

After a brief hearing to-day, the State Railroad Commission, sitting in New York City, granted permission to the New York and Portchester Railroad Company for permission to issue a mortgage for $20,000,000 toward the expense of the building of the road, and to increase the capital stock from $250,000 to $2,000,000.

President William C. Gotshall and counsel Frank Sullivan Smith, attorneys for the company, Mr. Gotshall took the witness stand as chief engineer for the road. He announced that in connection with the building of the road, the commission of the coast of Long Island Sound, J. N. Dickey, of Newburgh, said:

"Doubtless you have read, as we have, of the consolidation of these two interests. If the rumor of union is true before we go ahead with authority, we should know of it, or to the contrary, that we may regulate our actions thereby."

"If we have objection to making any statement the Commission desires, providing it is made in executive session," said President Dickey.

"Well, this is a public matter, and it concerns the financial ability of the company, and it is a matter of public interest, and we should go ahead in public session," replied Mr. Dickey.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Gotshall, "a little later, when the commission finally went into secret session and postponed the hearing."

OTTO TRIED TO BE HUMPTY DUMPTY

But the Fireman Dug Him
Out Whole and He Got Spanked.

Otto Ippers, twelve years old of No. 27 Howard avenue, Brooklyn, emulated Humpty Dumpty in balancing on a wall to-day and it took all the city's horses and men represented by Fire Company No. 127 and St. Mary's Hospital ambulance crew to dig Otto Ippers out again. The wall was "green."

A new house in West End new Otto's happy home. Owing to the mussy weather to-day the bricklayers started home and read the Christmas magazines. This left the situation entirely clear to Otto Ippers and sundry juvenile friends who played "elevated" on the green, running up and down and crowding in inopportune ways the brick structure rocked slightly.

About the third trip the green wall caved into the street with a shifting stair of bricks. As the wall fell in Otto Ippers fell out into a shifting sand bank which was in the path of the ambulance and which engulfed Otto to the neck before he could wiggle.

Excited hangers rang the fire and ambulance alarms and while the firemen tried to dig the shifting stairs of bricks out, the Griffen poked the neck of a bottle of something into the mouth of the child that protruded from the sand. After a quarter of an hour's burial Otto was released and sent home with a few well-deserved spanks.

WIRELESS MERGER STORY IS DENIED

President Griggs Declares Marconi Companies Not Interested in Other Concerns.

The reported merger of the wireless telegraph companies was officially denied to-day in a statement issued by John W. Griggs, President of the Marconi company.

"The managers, directors and a majority of the stockholders of both the Marconi companies are not interested in any wise in the United Wireless Telegraph Company," says Mr. Griggs. "The latter company has no agreement or prospect of agreement by which it will obtain control of either Marconi company, and the scheme of merger announced by Mr. White is antagonistic and repugnant to the interests of both the Marconi companies."

The United Wireless Telegraph Company of America, has for several years been prosecuting and is still prosecuting suits for infringement against the various De Forest companies.

BINGHAM CALLED BY GRAND JURY

Police Commissioner Answers
Question Concerning Raids
in the Tenderloin.

There was a flurry of mild excitement to-day in the Criminal Court Building when Police Commissioner Bingham walked in and went to the Grand Jury room. He spent fifty minutes with the Grand Jury. When he came out he said to the reporters:

"I was surprised to get a letter yesterday from the foreman of the Grand Jury, Monroe L. Simons, asking me to come here to-day. I had no idea what the jury wanted to know from me, but I was glad to be of any assistance. We talked about a lot of things. I presume the principal matter which we discussed may be cleared up by to-morrow."

A member of the Grand Jury said: "The thing that amounted to anything, some of the old grandfathers of the Grand Jury thought maybe Gen. Bingham might be able to tell us something in regard to the raids that were made last week on disorderly houses in the Tenderloin over the head of Gen. Russell of the War Thirty-seventh street station."

VETERAN MESSENGER "BOY" DEAD BY GAS

Body of James Dunn, Well
Known in Wall Street, Found
Beside Unconscious Wife.

James Dunn, fifty-six years old, a veteran messenger "boy" for the Western Union, was today found dead in the kitchen of his flat, No. 208 East Thirty-ninth street, from gas poisoning. His wife, Sarah, aged fifty, was unconscious on the floor beside him. She is dying in Bellevue Hospital.

Dunn had plenty of money and had no reason for suicide. He was well known in the Wall Street district. It was his custom to get up early in the morning and put a pot of coffee on the fire.

From evidence at hand it appears that he put on the coffee to-day and went to sleep, waiting for it to boil. The gas connecting the gas stove with the jet was loose and the room filled with gas, overcame him.

His wife, who lost the sense of smell in an operation some years ago, evidently went to his assistance and became unconscious while trying to revive him.

Music Teacher Dies Suddenly.
Mrs. Hattie Warner, fifty years old, of No. 33 West Fifty-sixth street, was found dead in her bed early last evening. An ambulance from the Roosevelt Hospital was called, and Dr. Auchenbach said the woman had died of heart failure. Mrs. Warner was formerly a music teacher, but recently had been taking music.

DIDN'T TELL HER AGE TO A LAWYER

Miss Jeanne C. Irwin-Martin
Skillfully Evaded Giving Exact Information.

"Just to oblige a friend," Hugh Gordon Miller to-day smothered his Southern chivalry when he asked the age of his client, Miss Jeanne C. Irwin-Martin, who led the fight against Supt. Haines, of the Bergh Society. She is a member of the Port Base Club.

The "friend" was Herbert C. Smythe, who opposed her suit for $100,000 damages from the Metropolitan Street Railway Company for injuries to her spine on the ground that she was injured in a Connecticut railway accident in 1890 and got $11,000 damages.

The case is on its second trial before Justice Kellogg and a jury in the Supreme Court. Mr. Smythe whispered to Mr. Miller that he wanted to know but was too bashful to ask the age of the lady who was on the witness stand, whereupon the dialogue was spoken.

"Madame," said Mr. Miller deferentially, "I am requested to ask you your age."

"On Miss Irwin-Martin's face was the telltale expression of pain. But she straightened up perceptibly as she announced: 'I am of age.'"

"Well, how old?"
"I am more than twenty-one,"
"Is that amount satisfactory?" asked Justice Kellogg.

"Well, I'd like to know what year she was born," said Mr. Smythe.
"I was born in '75-1875," was the reply.

Q. What? 1875? Weren't you a student at Smith College in 1881? A. I was—the youngest girl ever entered at that college.

Q. But didn't you testify on the trial of your suit against the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad in 1880 that you were then thirty-one years old? A. That was thirteen years ago. Mr. Smythe, I don't remember what I testified on that trial.

Q. You have testified that you came to New York in 1880 when you were twenty years old. How long ago was that? A. I do not remember. I am as much as twenty-eight.

Q. Did you go to school in Brooklyn? A. I don't remember.

Q. During what year did you attend public school? A. I never attended public school.

Q. Then, when you testified in 1880 that you attended public school, it was not true? A. If I said so it was untrue.

Dr. Edward T. McKinn, of West Fifty-eighth street, and Dr. Edward Payson Fowler, who had attended Miss Irwin-Martin during the past twenty-five years in her behalf.

21 MEN RETIRED BY M'ADOO REINSTATED

Bingham Obeys Court Order,
but Is Embarrassed by Having Too Many Officers.

The last of the policemen who were forced out of the Department by Commissioner McAdoo for physical disability and later reinstated by the courts, called at Police Headquarters to-day, received their shields and all but five were assigned to duty. There were twenty-one in all—five captains, fourteen sergeants and two detective sergeants.

Five of the sergeants made application for retirement on the spot. Joseph Gethring, Michael Goran, James Kenny, Michael McNamara and James J. Driscoll were the captains formally reinstated to-day. Capt. Kenny announced that he would retire in a few days. Capt. Goran, who is nearly seventy years old, said he felt as young as he ever did and would remain in the department. The five sergeants, who asked to be retired as soon as they got their shields back, were John McNamara, David Rogers, John Hamilton, John Ryan and George W. Homer. They explained to Inspector Corbitt that they were tired of the police business and getting too old to properly perform their duties, but that they had fought for reinstatement because they resented the methods used by Commissioner McAdoo in forcing them out.

Among the sergeants reassigned to duty pursuant to the court order is Oliver S. Timp, the veteran quartermaster. Timp was assigned to the West Twentieth street station and went to work there this afternoon.

The action of the courts in reinstating every man that Commissioner McAdoo arbitrarily retired is placing Commissioner Bingham in an embarrassing position. At the present time he has an over-supply of captains and sergeants.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

31 MEN RETIRED BY M'ADOO REINSTATED

Bingham Obeys Court Order,
but Is Embarrassed by Having Too Many Officers.

The last of the policemen who were forced out of the Department by Commissioner McAdoo for physical disability and later reinstated by the courts, called at Police Headquarters to-day, received their shields and all but five were assigned to duty. There were twenty-one in all—five captains, fourteen sergeants and two detective sergeants.

Five of the sergeants made application for retirement on the spot. Joseph Gethring, Michael Goran, James Kenny, Michael McNamara and James J. Driscoll were the captains formally reinstated to-day. Capt. Kenny announced that he would retire in a few days. Capt. Goran, who is nearly seventy years old, said he felt as young as he ever did and would remain in the department. The five sergeants, who asked to be retired as soon as they got their shields back, were John McNamara, David Rogers, John Hamilton, John Ryan and George W. Homer. They explained to Inspector Corbitt that they were tired of the police business and getting too old to properly perform their duties, but that they had fought for reinstatement because they resented the methods used by Commissioner McAdoo in forcing them out.

Among the sergeants reassigned to duty pursuant to the court order is Oliver S. Timp, the veteran quartermaster. Timp was assigned to the West Twentieth street station and went to work there this afternoon.

The action of the courts in reinstating every man that Commissioner McAdoo arbitrarily retired is placing Commissioner Bingham in an embarrassing position. At the present time he has an over-supply of captains and sergeants.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

Every man reinstated gets back pay. Many of them have been out for more than a year. These payments of uncertain salaries are making an awful hole in the Police Department appropriation and the expense of more captains and sergeants than are needed is also a heavy drain.

Commissioner Bingham will make an effort to get a lot of dead wood out of the department, but he will not go at it in a wholesale way as Commissioner McAdoo did. He will probably refrain from forcing any more policemen out by the plan of having them declared physically unfit until he finds how the courts view the case of Inspector Smith, who was involuntarily retired a few days ago.

THE BIG STORE
ACTIVITY
IN ITSELF

SIEGEL COOPER CO.
NO CONNECTION WITH ANY OTHER STORE
J.B. GREENHUT, PRESIDENT.

SIXTH AVE
18TH AND 19TH
STREETS
NEW YORK

Dining Room

The figures quoted as the values of the pieces mentioned below are, in all cases, either the prices which we ourselves asked for them up to to-day or the prices regularly asked by other good stores on furniture of the same character and quality.

By far the greater number are straight reductions from our own prices—special figures on odd lots—as every woman knows, the lots that make the best and cleanest picking of all furniture bargain offers.

Colonial Dining Suits—finest grade of polished mahogany; an ideal Colonial design, embracing all the handsome details of practical and artistic furniture; solid construction, best finish.
$202.00 Sideboard at.....	$182.00
$193.50 China Closet at.....	$174.00
$79.50 Side Table at.....	$71.50
$102.00 Dining Table at.....	$91.50

Dining Tables—made of plain solid oak, golden color; rubbed finish; 6-foot extension; regular price, $19; sale price.....	$15
Dining Tables—made of plain solid oak, golden color; rubbed finish; square top; five fluted legs; claw feet; 6-foot extension; regular price $11; sale price.....	$8.50
Dining Tables—made of fine quartered oak, golden color and highly polished; best possible construction and made of the finest selected stock; round top; pedestal base; 6-foot extension; regular price $20; sale price.....	$16.50

English Oak Dining Suits—handsome carved oak pieces; best possible construction; genuine English finish; sideboard made with the antique mirror effect; similar to the modern buffets.

$230 Sideboard at.....	$207.50
$145 China Closet at.....	$130.00
$76 Side Table at.....	$68.50
$130 Dining Table.....	$117.00

Sideboards—made of plain solid oak, golden color; rubbed finish; round top; five fluted legs; claw feet; 6-foot extension; regular price $13.50; sale price.....	$10
Sideboards—made of plain solid oak, golden color; rubbed finish; carved uprights; two doors; one large drawer and two small ones; French plate beveled mirror; regular price $20; sale price.....	$16
Sideboards—made of plain solid oak, golden color; straight uprights; large French plate mirror; strong construction; very handsome; three grooved shelves; regular price $23; sale price.....	$18.50

Wines and Liquors

Advance Thanksgiving Specials.
Prices Made Unusually Interesting on the Most Reliable Dinner Wines and Beverages.

OUT-OF-TOWN customers are especially urged to order at once and avoid the possibility of delay. Free delivery on $5 purchases to any point in the New England States, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland.

FREDERIC DUPEY & CO. IMPORTED CHAMPAGNE—The acme of excellence in flavor and quality. 12 bottles, $14.75; 24 bottles, $28.50; 36 bottles, $42.75. Cases of 12 bottles, $11.50.

Holland Gin—P. Bollman's fine old, mellow 69c. 12 bottles, $8.28; 24 bottles, $16.56.

VERY SPECIAL OFFER on "POMMERY" RED SPARKLING BURGUNDY—Sold regularly at $20 and $22; special at, per case, 24 bottles, $17.75; case 12 bottles, $8.88.

Alley's Invalid Stout—A delightful, refreshing tonic and appetizer. In the convenient and economical half-pint (quint) bottles. Specially adapted for invalids. PER DOZEN 89c.

CLARETS AND SAUTERNES PELLETIER FILS & CO., Bordeaux, France.

Case	Cane	24 Pts.
St. Estienne, 1898.....	$4.72	$2.72
St. Julien, 1898.....	5.40	3.20
Marques, 1896.....	6.00	3.60
Chateau Lafite, 1891.....	9.40	5.64
Chateau Latour, 1891.....	10.40	6.24
Chateau Lafite, 1891.....	10.40	6.24
Chateau Latour, 1891.....	10.40	6.24
Sauternes, 1894.....	5.80	3.48
Haut Sauternes, 1893.....	7.00	4.20
Chateau Lafite, 1891.....	8.00	4.80
Q. O. Burgundy, Cabernet d'Arde, Johannisberg, Haut Sauternes.....	$4.25
12 quarts Sauternes.....	$3.65
Imperial Zinfandel, St. Nicaise Burgundy.....	$3.65
12 quarts.....	$3.65
Puritan Medoc, Old Friers Burgundy.....	$3.65
12 quarts.....	$3.65
Cleret and Rhine Wine—per gallon.....	76c
$1.25, $1.00, $1.14, $1.41, $1.41 and Muscat—very choice wines, Special.....	85c
per gallon.....	85c
BRANDY AND RUM for Cooking and Baking. A special quality of pure rum and brandy which we guarantee for this purpose and which will burn readily to the very last drop. Per pint bottle.....	45c

THE FAMOUS IMPORTED "TOREADOR" from $3.00 to $9.00 a gallon.

RHINE AND MOSELLE WINES JOHANN GERST, Frankfurt-a-Main, Germany.

Case	Cane	24 Pts.
Niersteiner, 1890.....	$5.20	$3.12
Hochheimer, 1890.....	5.20	3.12
Lieb raw mitch, 1895.....	9.00	5.40
Rueschelsheim, 1893.....	11.00	6.60
Monchtruper, 1890.....	7.00	4.20
Oberlingelheimer, 1899.....	7.00	4.20
Assmannshausen, 1897.....	8.80	5.28
Old Riesling, 5 years old, per gallon.....	8.00
Irrescheberger, 1890.....	8.50	5.10
Hermescheider, 1897.....	8.00	4.80
Nonnendy Riesling, per gallon.....	$1.18
12 quarts.....	$1.18
Cleret Rye—5 years old; per gallon.....	85c
12 quarts.....	85c
Monchtruper Rye—per gallon.....	$2.50
12 quarts.....	$2.50
Old Riesling Rye—per gallon.....	$2
12 quarts.....	$2
YALE COCKTAILS, Manhattan or Martini. "An education in quality." Better than any other brand, and put up in an hour.....	$1.25
est full quart bottle. Per bottle.....	$1.25
SHERIES from 75 cents to $2.50 a bottle. (Siegel Cooper Store, Fourth Floor, Front.)

Siegel Cooper Co., 6th Ave., 18th & 19th Sts.

Furniture